Georgia Tech Housing

GT

With one semester under your belt it is time to start planning for your second year at Georgia Institute of Technology.

Think about your class schedule, extracurricular obligations, your campus job(s), social life and what will be most convenient - living on campus or living off campus. Campus living simplifies your life and eliminates the need to pack a bag in the morning to last you throughout your evening campus activities. Traveling back and forth is very time consuming and stressful. Remember all your friends live close by, and this year you are eligible for apartment living. It does not get much better than on-campus living!

If you have any questions, the assignment team encourages you to contact us by email (information@housing.gatech.edu) or by phone (404-894-2470). We hope to see you on move-in day in the fall of 2016.

Housing Style

Suite-Style Living

Woodruff and Harris feature suite-style rooms. They consist of two, two-person rooms sharing a full bathroom. The beds can be set up in three ways: low, medium or bunked.

Apartment-Style Living

The majority of rising second-year students seeking on-campus housing will be assigned an apartment before the fall semester begins. Each apartment features four to six private bedrooms, two to three bathrooms, a full kitchen, living room, and dining/study area. Fully furnished with an open kitchen and large windows, each apartment offers a great living space.

Among second year students, 95 percent were assigned apartments before classes began in August.

In both apartment-style and suite-style housing, each bedroom is furnished with an extra-long twin bed, chest of drawers, desk, desk chair, and wardrobe. Apartment style living rooms include a sofa, end tables, a coffee table, and a dining table and chairs. The kitchen comes equipped with a stove, microwave, refrigerator, and dishwasher. Most kitchens include a garbage disposal. Bedrooms and living areas have either carpet or new wood laminate flooring.

All campus housing includes utilities, free high-speed internet access (wired and wireless), and HD cable channels.

Rising second-year students have the option of choosing from one of our many apartments located on the East, West or North Campuses.

Room Selection Process

A rising second-year student is a student who enrolled at Georgia Tech in summer or fall 2015. You are considered a rising second-year student even if your class status is a sophomore, junior, or senior due to your AP credit hours. Room assignments are made using a room selection number based on your class status and the number of credit hours earned at Georgia Tech at the end of fall semester.

The Procedure

1. A room selection number is determined by your institute class status (senior to freshman) at the end of the fall 2015 semester. Your class status includes AP credit hours.

- Senior (90+hours)
- Junior (60-89 hours)
- Sophomore (30-59) hours)
- Freshman (0-29 hours)

2. Next, students are sorted within class status by the number of passed credit hours earned at Georgia Tech at the end of the fall 2015 semester.

3. Finally, students who have the same ranking will be randomly sorted. Upperclassmen are assigned first, and rising second-year students are assigned next.

ThinkBig for the 2016-2017 Academic Year

ThinkBig is an opt-in program that allows students and faculty to interact informally outside the classroom. Residents with interests in the same topic form a living learning community and participate in activities in their halls and off campus.

For the 2016-2017 year, the Women, Science and Technology (WST program), and the International House will be our featured offerings. These programs have a distinct application and admissions into these programs are competitive.
