RESIDENT ASSISTANT JOB DESCRIPTION

BASIC FUNCTION
Resident Assistants are live-in student staff members in the Department of Housing and Residence Life. RAs build positive communities through the creation of engagement opportunities for residents. They work to form individual relationships with all residents. They serve on duty to help create safe, respectful, and academically-conducive environments that foster student success and help connect residents to campus resources. They are positive role models and strive to be leaders.

RESPONSIBILITIES
Community Development
Resident Assistants are visible, available, and approachable to the community
Resident Assistants treat community members fairly
Resident Assistants create programmatic opportunities that benefit residents
Resident Assistants create communities where members treat others with respect
Resident Assistants build communities that are inclusive of others
Resident Assistants encourage residents to engage with and develop relationships with other residents
Resident Assistants mediate conflicts that occur in the community
Resident Assistants encourage residents to care for each other and their community
Resident Assistants are supportive of Hall Council and RHA

Relationship Building
Resident Assistants purposefully seek to develop a relationship with each resident
Resident Assistants demonstrate care and concern for each resident
Resident Assistants understand issues that affect Georgia Tech residents
Resident Assistants connect residents to campus resources
Resident Assistants help residents in need

Incident Response
Resident Assistants are knowledgeable of residence hall policies
Resident Assistants meet duty and incident response expectations
Resident Assistants follow protocols when confronting a crisis
Resident Assistants follow up with community members after incidents
Resident Assistants respond to facilities issues
Resident Assistants are mandatory reporters

Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion
Resident Assistants are inclusive of others
Resident Assistants are familiar with issues of inclusion that affect Georgia Tech residents
Resident Assistants create opportunities for residents to learn about themselves and others

Leadership
Resident Assistants are team players

Updated 10/25/2021
Resident Assistants are ethical
Resident Assistants maintain a positive attitude
Resident Assistants represent the Department of Housing and Residence Life positively
Resident Assistants demonstrate mutual respect for fellow staff, residents, and campus partners
Resident Assistants are supportive of one another
Resident Assistants are role models and demonstrate appropriate behaviors
Resident Assistants appropriately manage privileged information
Resident Assistants follow department and institute policies
Resident Assistants follow state and federal laws

Administrative Responsibilities
Resident Assistants maintain personal balance
Resident Assistants complete assignments and tasks in a timely manner
Resident Assistants are timely and present at department meetings and trainings
Resident Assistants follow directions from their supervisors
Resident Assistants keep their supervisors informed
Resident Assistants assist with departmental initiatives including move-in, selection, and move-out

REMUNERATION
Resident Assistants are awarded rent credit for their housing and $1000 of supplemental pay per semester. Additionally, RAs are provided a meal plan as a tool to connect with residents. While RAs may view the meal plan as a benefit to employment, it is not considered compensation. RAs are provided a rent credit with the expectation that their room/apartment be utilized to help facilitate community and provide a safe space for residents experiencing distress. RAs will be assigned by housing upon appointment. The Department of Housing and Residence Life reserves the right to assign roommates or relocate staff based on the needs of the department. RAs that are graduate students do not receive supplemental pay.

Updated 10/25/2021